More Than Security Awareness, It's Security Behavior & Culture

"Gartner research shows that these core activities do not deliver and sustain the tangible behavior and culture change required to reduce cybersecurity risk exposure. Social engineering is a perennial top attack vector...and the majority of breaches (82%) involve human error. While these core awareness capabilities achieve compliance objectives, they fail to sufficiently influence behavior." Gartner®, 2022

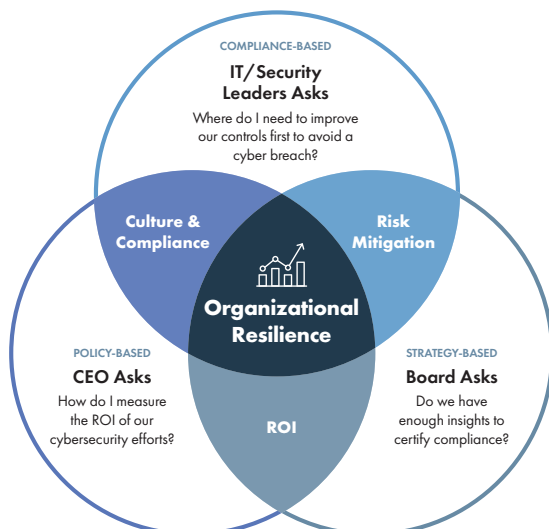

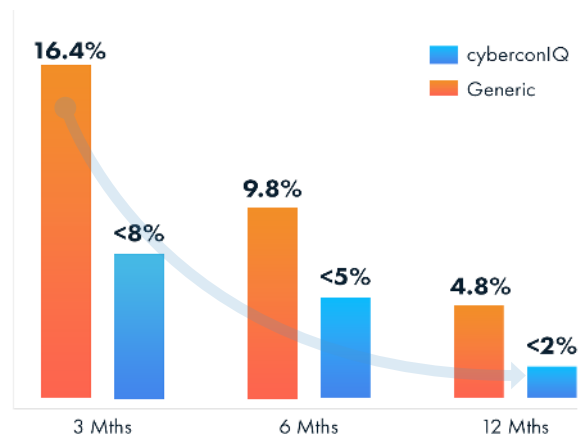

cyberconIQ named as a Representative Provider in 2022 Gartner® Innovation Insight on Security Behavior and Culture Program Capabilities Report
